INDIANA UNIVERSITY.

Durborow's Nerve Has Gone Back on Him-Grist of Fraternity News. Special to the Indianapolia Journal.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 15,-A letter from Hon. Allen C. Durborow, of Chicago, states that since writing that he would be in Bloomington in time to give the annual address before the alumni at the Inciana University commencement difficulties have arisen which will prevent his coming in time to give the address, but he promises to be present at the annual alumni dinner and make a short talk. Mr. Ira C. Bateman, of this city, is the alternate to Mr. Durborow, and will give the address slumni night. One of the interesting events of the week was the exhibition given by the young men of the gymnasium at the chapel, Friday evening, under the direction of Professor Zink. Miss Joe Hunter has been compelled to stop her work in college to go to Indianapolis to receive treatment for her throat. The senior class now has under consideration a trip to Wyandotte. The idea is to leave the Wednes-following Monday. The editors for the Indiana Student for the coming college year are W. V. Harding, from the "Barbs," non-fraternity, and U. H. Smith, of Phi Gamma Delta, selected by the various fraternities. These two will by the various fraternities. These two will now choose their associate editors and take charge at the beginning of the new college year in September. Prof. Elmer E. Griffith, of the Blind Asylum at Indianapolis, was visiting the University Saturday. He is an alumnus, and at one time was the edi-tor of the Indiana Student.

This is the year for the first annual reunion of the class of '87, but no arrange-ments have been completed for the occasion, and the indications are now that there will be no formal gathering. The lecture Sunday was given by Judge Cyrus McNutt, of Terre Haute. Mrs. McNutt and daughter, Miss Grace, accompanied him to Bloomington. The Delta Tau Delta boys enter-tained their fair friends Friday night. The State convention of Phi Gamma Delta meets at Hanover this week. The delegates from the Indiana University chapter will be Capt. Henry Nuckols and U. H. Dr. Coulter and Dr. Eigenman have been the Habit of Cribbing. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., May 15 .- The wet weather of the past week has pre vented any out-door work, either in baseball or field day, but contestants for the latter have been exercising in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The first prizes have been given by merchants of this city, and, weather permitting, a lively contest is looked for on the 18th. The runs will be especially interesting, the "Hound and Hare Club" having developed a number of good runners.

The DePauw-Wabash game has been postponed until, probably, next Tuesday at Greencastle. The Indiana University team will be here on June 4. Alpha Theta Phi has initiated W. I Davidson, '96, of Evansville, and pledged John Binford, '97. Roy Tront entertained several members of the Phi Gams Wednesday evening. A movement to secure a voice in the selection of the trustees on the part of the alumni will be vigorously pushed at the coming meeting of the trustees, and will The proof of the lithographs for the

The class-day ex-ercises will be held Monday evening, at Music Hall, preceding commencement. There will be no alumni address this year, but the banquet will be held as usual.

Fry. of Danville, Ky., the only surviving member of the class of '40, will attend commencement. John J. Shields, '77. the Prohibition candidate for Congress in the Eighth district. The classes of '86 and '89 will have reunions during commencement. The Yandes Coterie met on Saturday evening and listened to a paper by O. O. Humphrey. The senior vacation begins May 27. Mr. Gridith, the freshman suspended for "eribbing," will be allowed to enter college next fall with his class. The freshmen class has threatened to quit college if others, who, it is claimed, have been caught "cribbing," are not suspended

DE PAUW UNIVERSITY.

Commencement Will Be Monopolized by the Alumni-Its Name Is Delta Chi.

special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 15,-It is expected that the commencement of 1892 wil be memorable on account of an unusually large attendance of the alumni and the prominence given them on the general programme. It will be emphatically an alumni commencement. Besides assigning nearly all the prominent addresses of the week to the graduates of this institution, an entire day-Wednesday, June 8-has been set apart to special exercises of a commemorative character. Prominent among these will be the planting of the Columbian bowlder and tree. Addresses are expected from E. H. Staley, '58 T. A. Goodwin, '40; George W. Faris, '77; Mrs. Flora T. Laughlin, '75; Dr. John C. Ridpath, '63, and Charles W. Smith, '67 Poems are also promised by Miss Minnetta T. Taylor, '80, and E. S. Hopkins, '78. In addition to the interest attaching to the public exercises, great expectations are indulged that substantial progress will be made toward securing alumni representain the board of trustees. To this end the society of the slumni has recently been incorporated. A fitting memorial of the dead poet has been secured for the Columbian bowlder in the wonderful stone known as the "petrifled turtle." which was recently discovered in the northwestern part of this coupty. It weighs over twenty tons, and is regarded by scientists as one of the greatest of natural curiosities. The distance it will have to be moved is over twelve miles, and two traction engines will be used to furnish the motive power. The continued ram-fall interfered with the championship ball game announced to take place vesterday between Wabash and DePauw. It was therefore postponed till Tuesday, May 17, which being also fieldday at DePauw, it is expected that the occasion will be one of unusual interest. This is the last of the series of championship games to be played here. The home club

The Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnæ Club entertained both active and pledged members at the home of Mrs. Flora T. Laughlin. Last Evening the DePauw Quartet was welcomed home by a large audience at Meharry Hall. At the close of the entertainment the Sigma Nus gave Mesers. Maxwell and Dixon, of the quartet, a spread at the Palace.

Professor Bronson has tendered his resignation to the board of trustees, and will Jersey, as professor of English.

ROSE POLYTECHNIC. Great Preparations for Annual Field Day-Tri-Color Club Entertained.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 15 .- The committee on State field day is hard at work, and preparations are booming. The railroads have offered a half-fare rate as far as Marshall and Paris, Ill., on the west, Greencastle on the east and Crawfordsville north. The fair grounds, which have been secured, are in much better condition than last year, the old grand-stand having been replaced by a fine new structure. Rose hopes to have the pleasure of welcoming many collegians on this day of all the

The Tri-color Club was charmingly enter-tained by the Misses Carlton at their home on South Fifth street last Friday evening. Dancing was enjoyed until the small hours. Refreshments were served about midnight. Those present were Miss Carlton, Misses McKeen, Wiley, Foster, Havens, Kate, Anna and Fanny Carlton, Buntin, Crawford and Royse, Messrs. Cliff Anderson, Mewhinney, Sleit, Johnson, Strong, Hus-sey, Davis, Hart Rose, Warrick Anderson and Mendenhall.

It is but tair to one of our esteemed and well-liked instructors that a slight correction should be made in a statement made in the letter from Indiana University last week. There it was stated that Robert L. day before commencement and return the McCormick had just received notice of his election as instructor in German and mathematics at Rose. As a matter of fact, however, Mr. McCormick has occupied that position during this entire school year, hav-

> The May number of the Rose "Technic" appeared yesterday. Among its interesting features this time are: "Tempering," by Professor Brown, (concluded from last month); an article on silver mining in Utab by M. L. Oglesby, '92; two articles by alumni, one entitled "Our Southwestern Frontier," which is excellent, and the other, "Perspective Drawing," which is also good. The "Athletics" department seems to be trying to prove that we can't play ball this year. Our delegation has returned from Champaign and reports the field day a success in spite of the rain. The boys brought home with them five medals, two seconds and three thirds. We hardly expected to get any places at all and are therefore correspondingly delighted. Professor Waldo, of DePauw, delivered his lecture "Asceti-cism yersus Athleticism" to a large and interested audience at the Congregational Church, this afternoon. "Poly" crosses bate with DePauw next Saturday, on the home grounds. "Poly" will down her old enemies or die.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY. Rain Spoils Field Day and the Sophs' Mortar-Boards-Athletic Notes. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 15 .- Last Friday had been designated as field day at Purdue, but was prevented by rain. It was postponed indefinitely. The ball team from Rose Polytechnic came up Saturday to cross bats with Purdue, but it was our misfortune to have more rain. The team returned early in the afternoon. The game will be played June 4, at Purdue.

The sophomores have adopted a new head-gear. The cap is a soft mortar-boardaffair, with a visor and a beavy tassel in the center. They are very taking. Purdue's representatives to the Western intercollegiate field-day meeting at Champagne were Archie-Stevenson, C. Crowell and T. H. Patton. Stevenson secured second prize for putting shot.

Arthur Goss, class'88, who has been with Dr. Huston at the State experimental station since graduation, has accepted a posttion as chemist in the new college of New Mexico. Prof. Anne Von Helland was absent in Chicago last week making preparation for her trip to Enrope this summer. Commencement exercises will be held in a tent again this year. Students went in a body to the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" tent show Monday night, Mesers. Tingley and Noel will go to Ann Arbor, Tuesday, as delegates to the national collegiate Republican convention from the Republican Club at this place.

Assistant Mechanic Hoffman came near to having an eye seriously injured, the other day, by a flying block of wood. J. Etten, editor-in-chief of the Debris, has been in Chicago all the past week on business connected with the publishing of the book. Miss Lucy Blanchard, '91, of Shelby ville, is visiting at the Women's Hall. A party of students danced at Tecumseh's Irail, Friday evening. The sophomores will run an excursion to Lake Maxin-kuckee next Saturday. This annual picnic given by the sophomore class is partici-

HANOVER COLLEGE. The Students Not Grumbling About the

Record of the Base-Ball Team. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

HANOVER, Ind., May 15 .- In the series of games which the Hanover team has just finished playing, while they only won two out of the six, yet there is great reason to feel encouraged. The majority of the team is composed of young men and next year they will be able to put to good use the experionce they have lately acquired. The victory over Butler was not unexpected. The only occurences to mar the game were the injuries which two of Hanover's men sustained. The visitors were a fine set of fellows, and gained the good will of all Hanoverians. Last Wednesday the senior "preps" beat the "freshies" 15 to 14, while on Thursday the seniors worsted the "sophs" by a score of 16 to 14. A large delegation went down from Hanover to attend the Y. P. S. C. E. convention at Madison Friday. This attraction, together with the base-ball game, caused the streets of "the city under the hill" to be fairly alive with students. Many of the students attended the funeral of Stanley Charlton last Sunday afternoon, and the pall-bearers were selected from the members of the college. The deceased was a brother of Fred. R.

E. E. Stacey, State secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was in Hanover over the Sabbath. The delegates from here to the Lake Geneva summer school are W. B. Shirey and C. R. Hamilton; alternate, E. A. Cutler, Rev. H. W. Gilchrist, '85, and wife and Miss Myers, of Cincinnati, visited the college last Thursday. The class of '98 has raised by subscription funds for the purpose of erecting a monument to Minnie Logan. their classmate, who died last fall. James

Brown, D. D., '35, of Holton, Kan., is now the oldest living graduate. The Phi Gamma Delta convention will be held in Madison, May 19 and 20. George Gamble, '98, was in attendance at the district convention of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, held at Cleveland last week. James Breckenridge, the "Henry Clay" of Hanover College, was elected by his classmates as the eighth speaker on the senior

Meeting of the Academy of Science-Novel Public Programme of the Juniors,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., May 15,-The Indiana Academy of Science held its spring meeting at Earlham, last Thursday and Friday. The forenoon of the first day was given up to fossil-gathering in the Whitewater region. At noon the scientists dined at the college. The after-dinner speeches were humorous, and after President Mills gave the visitors a general introduction, Prof. past year go to Brown University, New | Campbell, of Wabash, president of the association, Mr. Butler, secretary, and Presiafternoon, which afforded amterritory for the snake-catchers, there being two of the latter in the party. Thursday evening a large audience gathered in Lindley Hall to hear the address of Dr. Springer, of Cincinnati. The Earlham Museum and her laboratories claimed special attention from the visitors, also the lately-mounted great fossil beaver, which bears the name Castoroides Obioensis.

At a recent meeting of the faculty the Haverford fellowship was awarded, without competition, to Pliny E. Goddard. This year, for the first time, Earlham offers to the women of the senior class a fel-lowship to Bryn Mawr. It went to Miss Miriam Harrison. Harry McMinn, of the 89s, who lately completed a theological course at the Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, preached his maiden sermon at the First Presbyterian Church in this city, to-day. Five of his old class-mates were present at the services - Misses Hattle Elliott, Hattie Farnham, Frances Moore of Earlham, Anna Wildman of Indianapolis, and Mr. Don C. Barrett of Muncie.

Last night occurred the public rhetorical exercises of the junior class. The programme, which was out of the ordinary line of class publics, was as follows:
"Science and Religion," L. H. Ratlift;
"Centripetal Forces in Our Government,"
W. L. Martin; piano solo, "Rondo Capriciosi" (Mohr). Elizabeth Kidder; debate, "Resolved, That colonization in Africa is the best solution to the negro problem." affirmative, Mattie Gouser, Burke Williamson, Lelia Wright; negative, S. B. Heck-man, Mary E. Ratliff, Mary Pickett; quartet, "Daybreak" (Veazie), Misses Mate, Gouser, De Greene, Kennedy.

Lyons Monument Memorial -Father Zahm's Work on Acoustics-Boating and Base-Ball.

Epecial to the Indianapolis Journal. NOTRE DAME, Ind., May 15 .- The Lyons monument will be erected about the 20th of this month, and will be ready for unveiling Memorial day. The Old Boys' Club, of Chicago, five hundred strong, many of whom were pupils of the departed professor, will attend in a body. The speakers, so far known, who will deliver addresses, are the Rev. Dennis A. Tighe, of Chicago, and Hon. William P. Breen, of Fort Wayne. Hon. William T. Ball, of Chicago, will discharge the duties of host.

Father Zahm, professor of physical which, in many respects, is different from anything in our language. It is a treatise on "Sound and Music," and is designed for those desirous of extending their knowledge so as to embrace the science as well as the art of music. Father Zahm is a member of the "Societe Française de Physique," being the first American ever elected to membership in that society. In his cabinet here he has what Dr. Koenig. the greatest living authority on acoustics, pronounced to be "one of the best collections of accoustical apparatus in existence." Present indications point to very exciting boat-races at commencement time, The "Evangeline," commanded by L. Fernding, and the "Minnebaha," commanded by F. Ansberry, are the six-oared barges, and the crews, both of them, are from Brownson Hall. The four-oared boats promise the great sport of the day. These will be manned by crews from Sorin and Brownson halls. Thurs lay seven men from the defunct Notre Dame Athletic Association met and defeated a representative nine from the present base-ball association. The victory was theirs by a score of 15 to 4.

BUTLER UNIVERSITY. The Senior Party Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by Certain "Sophs"-Commencement,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. IRVINGTON, May 15.-The invitations to the thirty-seventh commencement have just been issued. The programme covers a period of eight days, from June 8 to 16, 1nclusive. Hon. J. L. Griffiths, of Indianapolis, will deliver the commencement address. The Philokurians have completed the choice of their representatives for their annual valedictory exercises. The result was: Essavist, Stevens; declaimer, Manlove; orators, Kern and Nutt. The Y. W. C. A. have chosen their officers for the new year, as follows: President, Flossy Shank; vice, Harriet Iden; recording secretary, Mamie Lepper; corresponding secretary, Anna Stover; treasurer, Pearl Jeffries. The Y. M. C. A. also report the following: President, Henderson; vice, Holder; re-cording secretary, Barnett; corresponding secretary, Payne; treasurer, Robinson. Rev. Edwards, of Mechanicsburg, O., a former student, and Rev. Charles Filmore, '10. State Sunday-school superintendent, were visitors last week. Friday evening the Citizens' Club was entertained by Sylvester Johnson. Miss Harriet Noble led in . a paper on prose fiction, followed by Mr. George Cottman with magic lantern views. Invitations are out for a reception tendered the senior class by Professor Noble, booked for May 20. George W. Julian will lead the conversation. The seniors held a class party Tuesday evening, at which a few of the members were conspicuous for their absence. One of the staid bachelors was at home, tied in his room with a couple of sophomores for company. The recent rains have somewhat abated the base-ball fever. The team reports a general good time at Hanover Friday.

MOORE'S HILL COLLEGE.

The Girls Are in Faver of Running the Matter of Marriage Proposals.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MOORE'S HILL, Ind., May 15,-The athletic organizations have been hardly able to carry out any plan of work on account of the severe rains, but Friday afternoon the "freshies" played against the Senior "preps," and came out ahead by the ontrageous score of 31 to 13. The Tennis Club has utilized all fair days, but has not accomplished much. Special plans for a grand field day during commencement week are on foot.

The Sigournean Society (girls only) had a unique programme Friday afternoon. Each exercise was comic, ending with a debate on the subject "Resolved, That 'ladies' should enjoy the right of marriage proposal." Leap-year speeches were numer-

Thursday evening Professor Andrew J. Bigney lectured in the M. E. Church on "Washington City." The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon views with a lime light, it being the first time this new apparatus has been in use. The Theologues have not met this term. Several have accepted conference appointments. Revs. Abbot and Grimes go to Versailles circuit and Sheldon and Clark to appointments in Kansas. The Pedagogues evidently are "cramming" for the coming monthly examinations for license, and have allowed the Pedagogical Association to relapse. Professor E. B. T. Spencer is baving special work done in his department for the annual college educational exhibit.

SOUTHERN INDIANA NORMAL, Students Are Chasing Bats and Hunting Snatls in the Many Caves.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MITCHELL, Ind., May 15 .- The students have been kept closely at work all term, and many of them are glad to take advantage of the opportunity which they have on Monday, to visit the many caves in this locality and to wander over field and woods in search of wild flowers, or to gather material for work in the sciences. Professor Williams is having published his "Outlines of Grammar," from which material for use in the classes of the school have been selected for several terms. Prof. Callahan is on the programme of the Saratoga meeting of the National Teachers' Association and Business Educators of America, to be held in July, at Saratoga, N. Y. There will be only five weeks' vacation this year. Miss Gifford, who has charge of the department of short-hand and typewriting, will spend August with her parents, in New Albany. Many of the Sunday-school pupils of the town have entered Professor Pinnick's special music class.

It was a sad day for the college on the 10th inst. Miss Ida McDowell died after a short illness and quite unexpectedly to her friends. Time was not even given to have her friends from home and the only knowledge they had of anything wrong was the telegram announcing her death. President Joseph will lecture in Huntington county the 18th of June on "American Literature." The "Home Educational Lecture Course." Professor Rigdon manager, is likely to be of great benefit. A series of lectures will be given each season by citizens of the town and the faculty. Judge Hadley will open the course with four lectures on the "War." Her appointment is complimentary to her ability as an organizer.

FOR GOVERNOR-WHU?

A Correspondent Who Wants the List Kept Open Until the Day the Convention Meets.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: It has been a much-boasted saying among Republicans since the formation of the party "that the office should seek the man and not the man the office." From two or three communications that have appeared in the Journal within the last few days, it would appear to a man "on the Wabash" that this saying is about to be abrogated. We have seen nor heard of no "code of procedure" adopted by the Republican party, either State or national, that requires or even invites men, "amid glare of trumpets and martial array," to announce their candidacy for any office within the gift of the party at any stated time. The argument of these gentlemen reminds one of the driver of the slowest horse at a race. He generally has the inside of the track, and tries to defeat the best borse in the race in "lining up." thereby endeavoring to wear out the best horse on the track. You will always see him holding back on the reins, but urging his horse to "go." Then, again, you will notice that he is always looking back over his shoulder to see how close his opponent is upon him. Just so it appears to be with these gentlemen. They appear to be 'grooming' some slow-going "racer" and are anxious to have the candidates "line up." It is natural where there is a large stake to be won for the man on the inside in the race to want to have all entries closed as soon as possible, and especially so where there is a fleet horse looming up in the distance.

Mr. Porter has not announced his candidacy for the nomination for the govern-orship of the State of Indians, and we know of no rule of procedure or code of honor that requires him to so announce his candidacy. It seems to be the masses that are calling upon Mr. Porter to take the nomination. The question as to who shall be the Republican standard-bearer in the coming gubernatorial race must be determined by the Republicans of the State of Indiana through their regularly elected delegates in convention assembled on the 28th day of June, and will be the duty of our delegates so assembled to nominate the man who will command the support of every Republican in the State of Indiana. He must be a man of integrity, statesmanship and executive ability; he must be a man who will command the support of the manufacturer, the merchant, the mechanic, the capitalist, the professional man, the railroad employer and employed and laborers of every class. He must be a man of and for the masses, and if upon the assembling of the Republican State convention on the 28th of June a candidate possessing all these qualifications is not before the convention, it will be the duty of the convention to cast about for such a man and nominate him. Although there should be such a rule extant as these gentlemen would have us believe, it cerbecome a candidate, or the right of the con- | Company, Union square, New York. vention to nominate a man whose name may not have been mentioned until the day of the convention. It will be the duty of the delegates to the convention to consider only the best interests of the Republican party of Indiana, and if they do, I have no doubt but they will nominate a man who will rally to his support the cutire Republican vote of the State, together with a large Democratic labor vote that can be secured by a campaign of education. To such nominee Wabash county will give a majority of 1,500. In conclusion, I would suggest to the Republican brethren not to "close the books." but to leave the field open to all "entries" until the assembling of the convention on the 28th of June. A. ALTDOERFER. WABASH, Ind., May 13.

TRUE TO LIFE. Little Folks Who Held a Reception as

Giggled Just Like Their Mammas. That "little pitchers have long ears" is amusingly illustrated in the following incident, the eldest of the "little pitchers" referred to evidently having been within earshot of one of the fashionable receptions of the day, and, with a child's quick imitative ness, making use of what she nad seen and heard for the benefit of her companions. She was a bright little girl of about ten years, and she was playing with three or four girls a little younger than herself.

was overheard to say; "we'll play recep-"Reception? What's that?" queried one of the little girls. "Oh! it's a kind of an afternoon thing something like a party; only you don't do much of anything but stand around and just kind o' giggle. Oh! it's ever so easy to play. We'll want to make believe that we have tea in these little teacups of mine. Come on, I'll show you how to play it." They arranged a little toy tea set on a tiny table in a corner of the room, and then the instructress said:

"Now, I'll be the lady who is giving the reception-'Mrs. Mortimer,' you may call me. All of you go out into the hall and come in with your hats on and rush up to me, and I'll say: "'My dears! how good it was of you to "And what must we say?" asked one of

"Oh! you must say, 'Why, we wouldn't have missed it for anything,' and then we must all giggle and laugh." .What for!" "Well, because—well, just because that's the way the big folks do. I don't know why, and I guess they don't. Now let's begin playing it."

In came the little guests, and the scene that followed was all the more ludicrous to the concealed listeners when they heard the erudite hostess say: That was something like it, only you didn't giggle enough. Now you go and get some tea and stand around drinking it and all talk at once, and then you must all come and shake hands with me and say: "'I have had a perfectly lovely time, and I'll say, 'Oh, I'm so glad! and you'll come again, then, wont you!' and you'll say, 'Yes, indeed!' real loud and screechy, and

The North American Review for May opens with a discussion of the question, "The Man or the Platform," in which Senstors Quay and Vest, and Representatives Boutelle of Maine, Burrows of Michigan, Wilson of West Virginia, and Kilgore of Texas, participate. Senator Quay insists that principle will rank above personality in the campaign of 1892 with the Republicans, while Mr. Vest is rather doubtful of Mr. Cleveland at the cost of his free coinage heresy. The two Republican Representatives insist that issues stand before heroes with the Republican party, while the Democrats desire in their candidates the element of the heroic. Minister Smith contributes a timely article on "The Famine in Russia." "The Bebring Sea Controversy" is discussed by Gen. B. F. Butler, and the Marquis of Lorne, John Russell Young, ex-minister to China, who is certain that the policy of our government toward China is a very bad one, thinks the immigration matter might have been arranged without making enemies of the Chinese government. "London Society," by Lady Jenne, is an article which will doubtless provoke comment. Those named are the most important topics, unless the fourth paper of Mr. Gladstone on "The Olympian Religion" is deemed impor-tant. Published at No. 3 East Fourteenth street, New York.

"The Children of the Poor" is the subject of a paper by Jacob A. Riis in May Scribner, being the second of the series on the philanthropic work of great cities. Thomas Curtis Clarke writes of "Rapid Transit in Cities." He notes the fact that the demand for rapid transit facilities increases faster than the supply, and says: "Everybody thinks that their own city is in the worst plight, and the managers of their street-railways are the meanest men on the face of the earth; but it is an interesting fact, and one which has suggested these articles, that all large cities where time is of any value are now in like distress. In this article Mr. Clarke discusses the problem; next month he will consider the solution. Under the title "Unter den Linden" Paul Lindau describes, in an entertaining way, certain features of life in Berlin. In a geological paper, "Sea and Land," N. S. Shaler discourses of the action of the water on the shore, and accounts for the different results of this action, as shown in the varying character of coast outlines. William F. Apthorp writes of "Paris Theaters and Concerts." John W. Kirk has a little historic sketch entitled "The First News Mes-sage by Telegraph." Ashort story, "France Adoree," by Ida M. Tarbell, and an installment of Stevenson's "Wrecker" make up the fiction of the number.

The three first papers in the Forum for May are devoted to the silver question, and are written by three Democrats who regard the free coinage part of their policy as an unmixed evil. Representative Harter calls it "the blight of commerce," Senator Vilas recognizes it as a "threat" to the general prosperity, while Editor Hemphill, of the Charleston (S. C.) News and Cour-ier, recognizes in the solid support of the heresy by Southern Democrats "the loss of Southern statesmanship." The next eleven pages are devoted to an attempt by the solicitor of the Standard Oil Trust to prove that the organization debe classed with the most serves to beneficent institutions of the age. TWO SMART BEARS. Being Caught in a Huge Trap They Pick It Up and Escape. San Juan Prospector

Not long ago a cow died in the vicinity of the Guinn ranch, near the head of Goose creek, south of Wagon-wheel gap. It soon became apparent to William Guinn. owner of the ranch, that the careass of the cow was being visited by a bear of very large dimensions, and, in company with Doll McClelland, Mr. Guinn decided to "sit up" with the bear and endeavor to get a good shot at it by night. This was done, but owing to darkness the bear was not killed by shots fired. As the next resort, a large bear trap, weighing about seventy-five pounds, was procured, and set near the dead "critter," and the trappers went to bed laughing at the trick they had played on the bear. The trap was chained to a pole eighteen feet long and eight inches through at the large

premises about the dead cow showed plainly that the bear and a cub had been there during the night. There was a large track. eighteen inches long and six or eight inches wide, and a small track, evidently made by a cub. The trap, however, was gone, and with it the eighteen-foot pole, and the disturbed condition of the ground showed conclusively that the bear had been caught in the trap. The trail, however, away from the scene was only the trail of the two bears-there was not a mark of dragging either trap or pole. Mr. Guinn took up the trail, which he followed eight miles without coming upon the bears, trap or pole. At the camp of Mr. Tom Carey, seven miles away, that man told how in the night he had been awakened by a sound of something with an occasional pause and heavy fail on the ground as if something had been dropped. Having no gun, Mr. Carey sat in his tent the balance of the night, and endeavored to keep warm by poking wood into a sheet-iron stove. The trail was followed a mile or so further and then lost. In one place the bears had passed through a heavy quaking aspen thicket and had literally mowed aswath through the saplings, showing that the trap and pole were being taken along. The natural inference was that the bear was caught in the trap, had picked up the same, with the pole, and started for the hills. The bear is an old offender in these parts, and Mr. Guinn hopes to find it yet. A man just in from the head of the San Juan reports that he passed the bears on the Pagosa road, beyond Summitville, jogging contentedly along, each carrying one many poor children by a good many thousand. But how many of them were Italians, how many Bohemians, how many of Irish or German descent, we are yet left to guess. It is different with these. A census, that was taken for a special purpose, of the Jews in the East Side sweaters' district. a year ago last August, gave a total of 23,405 children under six years, and 21,285 between six and fourteen, in a population of something over 111,000 that inhabited forty-five streets in the Seventh, Tenth and Thirteenth wards. All of these were foreigners, most of them Russian, Polish and Roumanian Jews, and they are by all odds the hardestworked and, barring the Bohemians, as class, the poorest of our people. According to the record, scarce one-third of the heads of families had become naturalized citizens, though the average of their stay in the United States was between nine and ten years. The very language of our country was to them a strange tongue, understood and spoken by only 15,887 of the fifty thousand and odd adults enumerated. Seven thousand of the rest spoke only German, five thousand Russian and over twenty-one thousand could only make themselves understood to each other, never to the world around them, in the strange jargon that passes for Hebrew on the East Side, but is really a mixture of a dozen known dialects and tongues, and of some When it comes to the child population of | that were never known or heard anywhere the poor Jewish tenements, we have at last | else.
